Hello!

---

Congratulations on your engagement!

Your wedding day is the start of a new adventure together. Everyone has their own personal adventure to share about how they met, fell in love, and the days leading up to wanting to spend eternity together. The excitement of telling that story through images is the reason why I became a photographer.

Through road trips, hiking, and being surrounded by the beautiful outdoors I am able to feel at peace with myself. Which is why I have a passion to photograph outdoor weddings, I love to see you and your fiancé relaxed when the time comes for the intimate portraits.

Traveling has taught me how to continuously adapt to changing environments, experiences, and people. I've learned how to prepare for any situation, but expect the best in everything. When photographing a wedding I prepare myself the same way I would as if I were traveling, expect the best.

I would love to be able to work with you and photograph your wedding!

Located in the St. Croix Valley but I'm willing to travel worldwide.
